Letter From the Editor

Dear Reader,

It is with great enthusiasm that we present the latest issue of the Medical Student Press Journal. This issue comprises a collection of original research articles and creative writing from some of the best and brightest medical students across the United States. This issue highlights the perseverance of medical students to continue to actively engage in their education, patient interactions, and mentorship. Each article truly represents the journey of the students who wrote it or the students it discusses. The underlying theme of growth and development as the future physicians of tomorrow prevails throughout. We want to thank our contributors, editors, reviewers, and mentors who made this publication possible. We hope you will find their hard work and dedication to medicine inspiring.

Sincerely,
